Structure, Governance and Management

Peace & Justice (formerly Edinburgh Peace & Justice Centre) is an unincorporated body, established by constitution in 2010, and is registered as a Scottish Charity (SC 026864). The management of Peace & Justice is entrusted to a Committee elected by the members at the Annual General Meeting or co-opted by the Committee during the year. Further reference and administrative information, including the names of trustees, is shown on page 2.

Charitable Purposes

The principal objects of the Centre are:

- i. To promote understanding of methods of conflict resolution, the maintenance of human rights, and the environmental conditions needed for a sustainable world order, doing so by the provision of an information and educational resource centre for the general public and for various charitable bodies that work in the same fields.
- ii. to promote the above objects in a way which maintains ethnic, religious, gender and party-political neutrality.

The objects, powers and restrictions are set out in full in the constitution.

Review of Activities

Working from home

Our staff continued to work from home throughout 2021 and the board continued to meet via zoom.

Peace Cranes

Much of 2021 was spent working towards our peace cranes exhibition which ran in partnership with Just Festival at St John's Church in August 2021 and continued there until 13 November. This was the culmination of our peace cranes project to collect 140,000 origami peace cranes from peace activists and supporters from around the world to remember the victims of the bombing of Hiroshima in 1945 and call for peace and nuclear disarmament. The exhibition also made links with ecological crisis through the symbol of the now endangered red-crowned crane upon which the iconic origami crane is based.

Iliyana Nedkova and Heather Kiernan were employed as co-Curators of the project and worked hard to raise the money needed, install the exhibition and organise associated events. Brian Larkin and Jane Herbstritt also gave considerable time to organising the exhibition, and a tireless group of 10 or so volunteers worked on threading cranes, helping install the exhibition and then staffing the exhibition and helping visitors make their own peace cranes to take home.

The exhibition launched on 6 August with the Consul General of Japan, the Lord Provost of Edinburgh and Bill Kidd MSP, Co-Chair of the Scottish Parliament Cross Party Group on Nuclear Weapons who delivered a message from First Minister Nicola Sturgeon and other prominent speakers.

We estimate that over 27,000 people visited the exhibition between August and November 2021. In addition to the main exhibition, a programme of 14 Peace Cranes Exhibition Events saw 147 people attending in person or online and 596 YouTube Views to date. Daily cranes making workshops saw an estimated 550 people participating.

The events included an online event on Yemen, peacebuilding and the arts; an online talk with RSPB about their work protecting cranes, an exhibition by Peter Kennard focussing on the impact of militarism and the ecological crises called 'Code Red' during COP26; and a preview of Michael Mears' new play 'The Mistake' at an in-real-life event at St. Cuthbert's Church.

A crowdfunder set up by P&J raised £2,800 towards the cost of the exhibition. A further £28,000 was raised by our co-curators through a number of grants.

Peace Building in Schools

After raising £4,000 in donations (October 2020), adapting to restrictions on visiting schools due to COVID, our PeaceBuilders team completed production early in 2021 of a series of eight short videos for schools based on our Cooperative Games and Conflict Resolution course which our facilitators have run in person with 50 class groups since 2015.

The course helps pupils develop skills to resolve conflict, build relationships and work together to create more peaceful learning environments. We created this resource and companion manual to enable teachers to help children develop skills in managing emotions, respect and empathy, and conflict resolution. The videos can now be accessed online.

A new Programme Coordinator, Stephanie Walker, came on board in May. Unfortunately the impact of the pandemic meant that there were severe restraints placed on delivering the programme in schools.

Other Peace Related Events

Our AGM featured talks on Real Security by Prof Paul Rogers, and Professor Jenny Pearce, Latin America and Caribbean Centre (LACC) LSE and was attended by more than 50 people. We developed the first draft of the Made in Scotland briefing published with CAAT Scotland and organised an online workshop on arms made in Scotland, sold to Saudi Arabia & used in the war on Yemen. 24 people attended.

P&J has been active on the Steering Committee of the Global Campaign on Military Spending. We helped organise two Twitter storms and a Military Budget Webinar.

On Remembrance Sunday we held an in-real-life Alternative Remembrance event with Edinburgh Quakers and Veterans for Peace Scotland.

Opposing War - Memorial to Conscientious Objectors

With progress on hold due to COVID and delays on delays on proposed redevelopment of Princes Street Gardens which will impact our proposed memorial site, we are maintaining communication with Parks and Greenspace officials at City of Edinburgh Council. This year a student on work placement added several new articles to the associated website further developing this as an educational resource.

Community engagement in the project took the form of an online Embroidery Workshop run by artist Kate Ive that attracted 35 attendees. We also helped organise the UK Conscientious Objectors Day Vigil online and contributed video from our Edinburgh event reaching many more people than in previous years with local events.

Raising awareness of the impact of militarism on the climate and ecological crisis

The P&J Coordinator spoke on Militarism and the Climate Emergency at an XR Scotland event. We organised a workshop attended by around 50 people and presented on militarism and climate change at 'From the Ground Up' during COP26 with Scottish CND and Trident Ploughshares.

Peace & Justice is a member of the Stop Climate Chaos Scotland, a network of 60 NGOs which has called on Nicola Sturgeon to oppose the new Cambo oil field and other work around COP26.

Advocating for Justice for Asylum Seekers

Our intern Meklite Balcha created two new briefings about issues facing refugees and created resources for use by supporters to advocate for safe passage for refugees and justice for refugees in Scotland. They are available on our website.

We joined Safe Passage, Refugee Action and Together with Refugees networks, signed joint statements and promoted opportunities for supporters to call on the UK government to provide access to safe passage for asylum seekers, take its fair share of refugees and end indefinite detention.

Membership

88 Members at the end of 2021. Since December 2020 9 new members. 7 lapsed.

Report of the Independent Examiner To the Trustees of Peace & Justice

I report on the accounts of Peace & Justice (the charity) for the year to 31 December 2021, which are set out on pages 7 to 10.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1) (d) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1) (c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention

- 1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 44(1) (a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations, and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with Regulation 9 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations have not been met, or to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
